PLANNING THE YEAR AHEAD – THE POWER OF PRECISION

Our first conference of the year is focusing on precision over the year ahead as we reflect on what happened this summer, what we have learned and what we may need to do next. We will focus on the story of the summer, the changes we can see coming ahead and some of the topical issues that are not going away. We are having a special focus on the gender gap, U grades in Psychology and Science, what the examiner reports told us in Feed Forward and will also explore some of the hidden issues we think ought to be on our radar. This conference will help you plan for the year ahead and help you place your efforts on the things that may have the most impact.

PART ONE: 10.00 – 11.15

- Welcome: The Power of Precision
- A view from results days 2025 with Jenny Gaylor
- What we know about re-sits at Post 16 for English with Jo Heathcote
- How PiXL can support you: brand-new resources for re-sit students
- What about NEETS?
- The latest findings about U grades in Psychology and Science
- An approach to A*-B results
- Conference part one close

PART TWO: 11.50 – 13.00

- Precision throughout the next year
- An overview of the latest data and research from Feed Forward for the top 10 subjects at KS5
- What are other sixth forms and colleges doing to address the gender gaps?
- How can we encourage our students to contribute to society and feel part of something bigger?
- Leadership Lanes with Joe Sparks
- Conference part two close

PART THREE: 13.50 – 14.30

We are mixing things up for the third session of the day which will be interactive so we can do some problem solving together. We will be in groups handling the biggest issues that you are facing and helping each other by sharing what you are doing that works. We are covering the following:

- Attendance
- Achieving more A*-Bs
- Creating aspiration
- Creating momentum with staff
- Eliminating U grades
- Managing independent study
- English and Maths re-sits

If the thought of talking to others sends you into a cold sweat, fear not: there are two options on offer for the interactive session. One involves talking and sharing in a group, the other involves sharing but with no talking at all – you decide how you want to interact! More will be explained on the day. We believe this session will help create hundreds of ideas and connections in a very short period of time, enabling you to get some practical suggestions to consider implementing.

It's a PiXL first – make sure you don't miss it!

IGNITING LEADERS, CHANGING LIVES
